1) Real Estate Investments includes exposure to Real Estate Investment Trust Units(REIT)

2) Previous Year numbers have been recomputed wherever necessary in accordance with regulations

3) Debt service coverage ratio is calculated as Profit before interest and tax divided by interest expense together with principal repayments of long term debt during the period.

4) Interest service coverage ratio is calculated as Profit before interest and tax divided by interest expense.

5) Expenses of Management include commission and operating expenses relating to insurance business

6) Profit after tax and total income are as disclosed in the standalone Profit and Loss Account and standalone Revenue Account.

7) * Notes on Persistency :-

- I. The persistency ratios are calculated in accordance with the IRDAI circular no.IRDAI/F&A/CIR/MISC/256/09/2021 dated September 30, 2021 and IRDAI/NL/MSTCIR/RT/93/6/2024 dated June 14, 2024 and hence are with a lag of one month.
- II. The persistency ratios for the quarter ended March 31, 2026 have been calculated on 30th April 2026 for the policies issued in the January to March period of the relevant years. E.g.: the 13th month persistency for the current quarter is calculated for the policies issued from January 2025 to March 2025. The persistency ratios for quarter ended 31st December 2025 and 31st March 2025 have been calculated in a similar manner.
- III. The persistency ratios for year to date as at March 31, 2026 have been calculated on 30th April 2026 for the policies issued in the April to March period of the relevant years. E.g.: the 13th month persistency for the current year is calculated for the policies issued from April 2024 to March 2025. The persistency ratios for year ended 31st March 2025 have been calculated in a similar manner.
- IV. The 'quarter ended' persistency ratios are not comparable to corresponding 'year to date' ratios on account of different time period available for renewal for policies. For example – In case of 'quarter ended' persistency as at 31st March 2026, which includes policies issued in the January to March period of relevant years, a policy issued in the month of January will have around 3 months available for renewal of policy. While in case of 'year ended' persistency as at 31st March 2026, which includes policies issued in the April to March period of relevant years, a policy issued in the month of April will have around 12 months available for renewal of policy.
- V. Persistency ratios include individual business only. Group business policies have been excluded from the persistency calculation.
- VI. Ratios for the previous year's quarter & previous year have been reclassified / regrouped / restated wherever necessary.

1 Brief details on valuation data covering its accuracy,completeness and reasonableness and how the data flows to the valuation system

The completeness and accuracy of the valuation data is of utmost importance as the results of all the actuarial calculations are dependent on the data provided as input.
Completeness: It is ensured that the data provided by the IT department is complete and it has been considered by the actuarial process in entirety
Accuracy: Number of System Integrated Checks (SICs) are performed by IT team on the valuation data which is sent to the actuarial department for review. The outages (if any) are analyzed and are sent to the concerned departments for correction
Reasonableness-Various checks are performed such as Inter-consistency of data fields checks, Boundary conditions, average trends, etc.

Policy data is downloaded in text files from policy administration system through an automated query post completion of new business processing for the month. Various checks are applied on the data before using it for policy liability calculations. An actuarial software is used for valuation of policyholders' liabilities and the assumption tables of the software are updated to reflect current valuation basis.

2 Brief mention of any significant change in the valuation basis and /or methodology

No change in Valuation basis and/or methodology since last quarter. Economic and demographic assumptions have been changed to align with emerging experience and current economic scenario. For details, please refer the table above.
